

Ava Adonia - press releases

ARTIST BIO

Ava Adonia is contrast.

Ballad meets dark pop, dance beats meet horror movie. Her music tells bittersweet stories, like one of nostalgia, growing up, dreams and nightmares, accompanied by an electronic dark pop sound. True to the motto „finding escape“, she creates her own world in which nothing seems to match at first sight. But upon a closer look, recognize a shade of dark can be found in everything.

She also opens up the fortress to this world on stage. Whether it is with other musicians or alone, she brings her songs on stage and with her performance, creates a melancholic wave.

Right now Ava Adonia is working on new songs, in which she refines her dark pop sound. At the same time, she is part of season #3 of the Female* Producer Collective, a talent promotion program for female* music producers.

Inspirations for her genre-bending songs come from a quote from „Pretty Little Liars“, a smokey basement party techno beat or a late night FaceTime call with her best friend.

The only similarity? That there is none.

NEW SINGLE “MISSILES IN THE SKY“

Dance the frustration away all night or run outside and scream at the sky? Between pop-punk beats and a dark club atmosphere, there is an emotional chaos. 'missiles in the sky' is an ode to getting back up after a fall.

This song sounds like Yungblud and Halsey wrote a song about their toxic relationship. Entirely self-produced, 'missiles in the sky' is the diary entry after the painful end of an intense friendship.

NEW SINGLE “ESCAPE ROUTE“

"escape route" by Ava Adonia captures the urge to flee reality with a beat that makes you forget why you're running. This Dark Pop track blends contrasting worlds: dancefloor or melancholic retreat?

This song sounds like Billie Eilish went to a club with Taylor Swift. Entirely self-produced, "escape route" is your getaway car's anthem.
